Former GFO Editor David Garmaise fighting long-term illness

David Garmaise, a former Editor of the Global Fund Observer and still a regular contributor, has written hundreds of articles of news, analysis and commentary for the GFO, starting in 2005.

Contributions by David to GFO may become more irregular in the near future as David is locked in a battle with liver cancer (his words) and is undergoing medical treatment.

All of us at Aidspan and the Global Fund Observer are counting on David's return to health, and are looking forward to his continued contributions as an indispensable member of the Aidspan family.

We hold David warmly in our thoughts, and send our hopes and prayers for his speedy recovery.

David can be reached at david.garmaise@aidspan.org.
